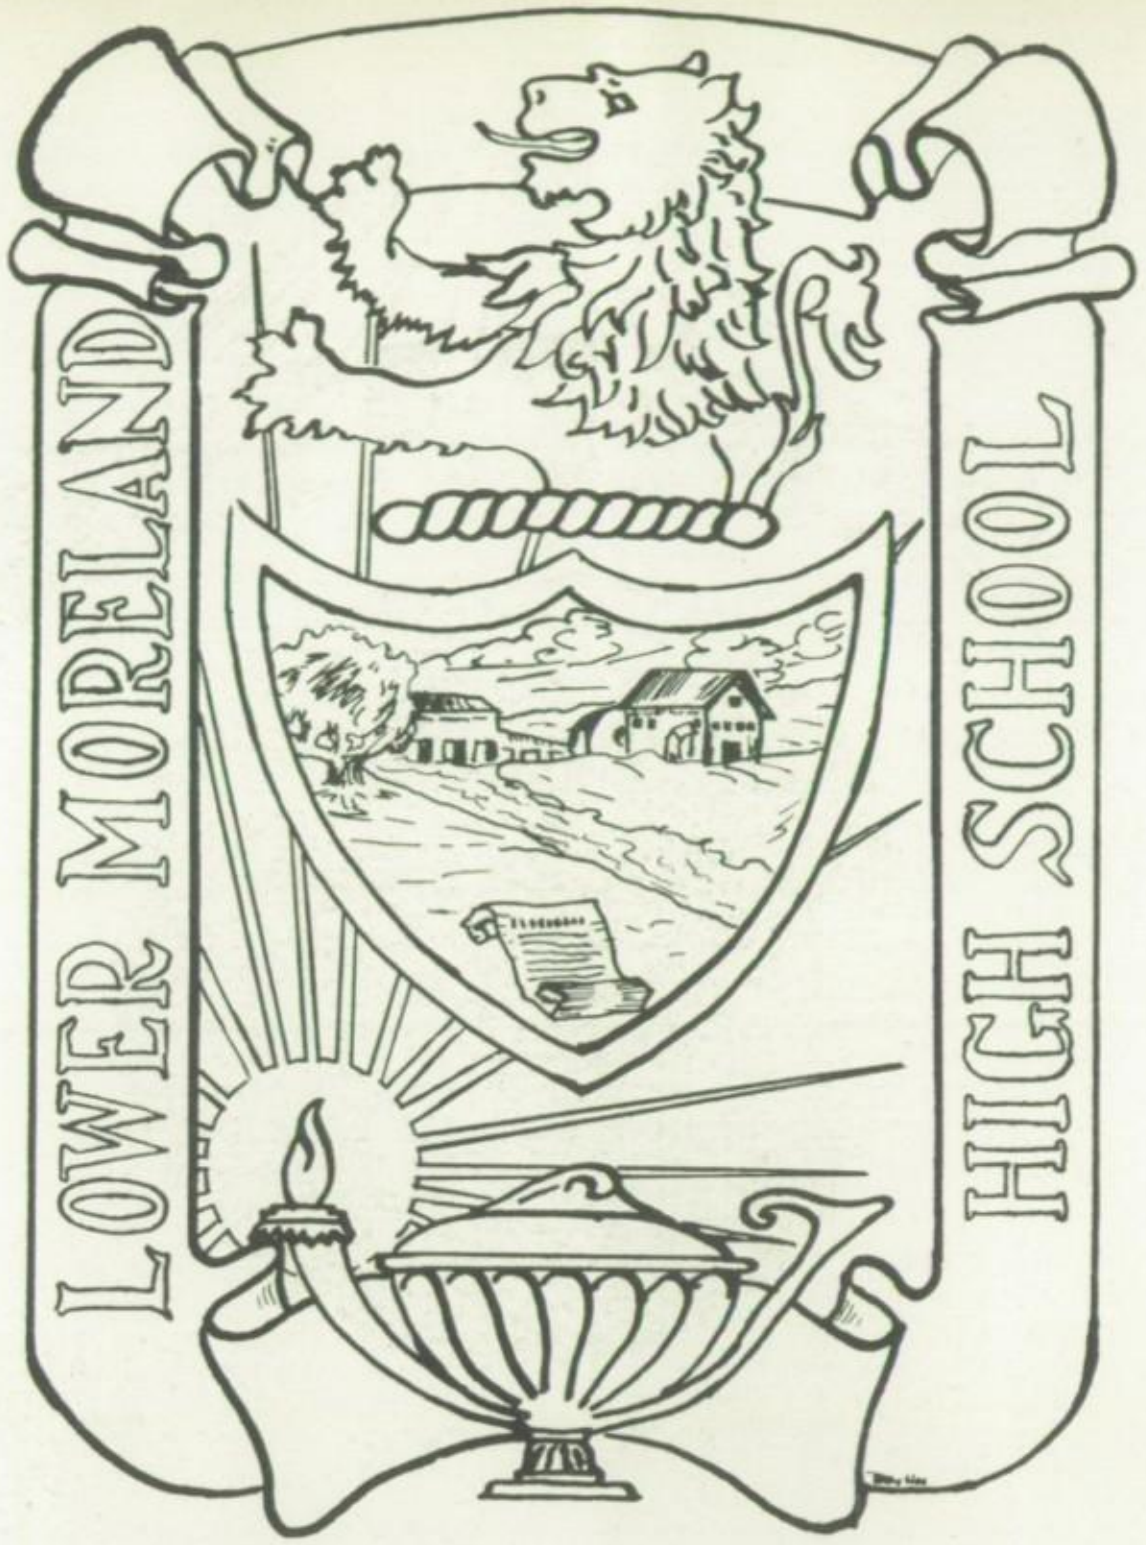
LOWER MORELAND HIGH SCHOOL

HUNTINGDON VALLEY, PENNSYLVANIA



Legend of the Seal

OF THE LOWER MORELAND SCHOOL DISTRICT

The seal is composed of a shield representing the original township of Moreland. However, in 1917, Moreland Township was divided into Upper and Lower Moreland. This division is indicated on the shield by the Pennypack Creek, an historic stream bordering our community. On the banks of the Pennypack is the grist mill, symbolizing the early industry of this section.

On the lower half of the shield we find the scroll, which characterizes the early means of exchanging thought by the written and printed word, and the growing oak, symbolizing development and strength.

Mounted on the top of the shield is a rampant lion taken from the crest of the Moore family. Nicholas Moore, a member of this family, received from William Penn the original grant of land of Moreland Manor, later to become Moreland Township.

Supporting the shield is a Grecian lamp shedding rays of education and enlightenment. The entire seal is bound by an endless ribbon representing unity of purpose and effort. On this ribbon the identity of the seal is inscribed.

DEDICATION

BERTHA L. CROWE

With deep respect and gratitude, we, the Class of 1954, dedicate our yearbook to Miss Crowe, who has been to us a teacher, an adviser, and friend. We have greatly appreciated her patient understanding and her sincere interest in us and in our activities. Our association with her has contributed much to the happiness we have found in high school. This dedication, we feel, is one way we have of acknowledging all she has done for us as individuals and as a class.

Administration

It is with genuine pleasure that I again extend greetings and congratulations on your accomplishment in the publishing of this 1954 Elmleo.

This book, representing many hours of work and planning, is a record of your high school life. As years add to years, it will be an increasing source of pleasure as you reflect on one of the happiest periods of your life.

My sincere hope is that this yearbook will always be a reminder of your days with us and a testimony that we have had a share in the happiness and satisfaction we wish for you.

Sincerely,

Franklin L. Horne

Supervising Principal

Each year another senior class passes in review. We hope, as always, that Lower Moreland has provided you with a firm foundation that will enable you to find a happy, successful place in life.

It is a privilege to be associated with young people and we envy your opportunity to help create and achieve an improved way of life.

We hope you have learned that any worthwhile achievement represents a great effort. Your yearbook reflects such industry.

We extend our sincere good wishes for your future success and happiness.

Very sincerely,

George S. Robinson

1954

WALTER F. AMES

General Rockledge

Because of Walt's friendliness, he became well-liked as soon as he joined us in our junior year from La Salle. His special interest is girls (and they return that interest). His dislikes? Women drivers and highway patrolmen. We wish Walt a happy and successful future.

WILLIAM ANGLEMOYER

Academic Huntingdon Valley

Bill's good natured grin and pleasant personality have made him one of our most popular members. His willing participation in a variety of school activities has also made him one of our most valuable ones. These are a few – varsity football, basketball, and baseball, Lion's Roar and Elmleo staffs, class treasurer, and Chorus. Bill's next step will be college, and we are sure that he will continue to do well there and enjoy the popularity he has enjoyed at L. M.

MARGARET M. BAILEY

Commercial Oakford

Peggy, who joined us in her sophomore year from Jones Junior High School, was always a capable volunteer for any or all class activities. We have greatly appreciated her cheerful willingness to assist in both class and general school matters. As head of the typing department on the Elmleo staff, she was very efficient, and was an active member of the Chorus and Knitting Club, and was selected Maid of Honor to the May Day Queen. Peggy looks forward to office work after graduation. We can be sure of her success.

WILLIAM BARRY BARTH

Academic Feasterville

Barry's raised eyebrow was usually a signal for one of his witty remarks and some subtle humor. This wit and humor we always enjoyed when Barry put on one of his shows or when we chuckled over one of his compositions, stories, or Lion's Roar feature articles. Barry was active in other ways as well. He was a member of the Gym Club and football squad in his senior year. Jeepsters, too, add spice to the life of Barth. We predict an interesting future for this talented classmate.

VIRGINIA BELL

Commercial Rockledge

Ginny has been with us since the fourth grade, with the exception of her junior year, and has at all times been a lot of fun and a wonderful friend. She likes roller skating, but her special interest is dancing. For her clubs, she chose Typing, Shop and Art. We know Ginny will succeed in whatever she does after graduation, and we will long remember her familiar "Hi" around L. M.'s corridors.

DONALD BILLGER

General Feasterville

Don's one of the redheads in our class and a swell fellow to know. He played one year of varsity baseball; his clubs consisted of Hobby, Home Economics, and Boxing. Don has been kept busy with after school jobs, which is probably one reason he dislikes that early ring of his alarm clock. Continuing with one of his present jobs or getting another good one is all he'll tell us of his future plans.

BARBARA BLAIR

Academic Rockledge

Babs is a quiet, studious member of our class. She belonged to Tri-Hi-Y and was head of the prayer committee in Bible Club. Her interest centers in church work, but her hobbies include roller skating, sewing, and reading. Babs didn't join our class until 1952 when she entered from Harding Junior High, but we are glad she did join us and we know she will do well in her college work.

DOROTHY ANNA BLAKER

General Trevose Heights

Dot's lovely coloring and sweet manner are an unbeatable combination. With Dot's artistic ability, it is no wonder that her hobby is art. People who have no school spirit annoy this loyal lady. Her favorite expression?—"That's for sure!" Even though Dot's occupation-to-be is not yet settled, we wish her well in it and in the happy times that are ahead.

RUTH MAE BURROWS

Commercial Rockledge

Burr was a very helpful member of our class, always willing to work for our many "causes". She was a member of the Elmleo staff, Chorus, and Knitting Club. She enjoys dancing and traveling, having art craft and photography as her special hobbies. It is difficult to name all the interests of this vivacious classmate of ours. Post-graduation plans include office work.

RONALD BOTHUR

Academic Feasterville

Ronnie is another one of our sports-loving members, playing varsity football for two years. He joined the Science and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, and was an active member in both. Naturally, since homework and sports do not go together too well, homework, tests, and oral reports are among Ron's dislikes but he worked at them faithfully. Ronnie's weakness for talking (sometimes without pause for breath) and irrepressible good nature sometimes had his teachers counting to ten. We hope Ronnie will continue to enjoy life as we have enjoyed having him as a classmate.

BRUCE WOOD CHADWICK

Academic Feasterville

Chad joined us from Lincoln High School in our freshman year. He enjoys sports and played varsity football in his senior year. He also likes snow and fishing, in which he excels. Bruce has been a loyal worker, always ready and willing to do anything asked of him. We are sure Bruce will make out well in the work he chooses.

GEORGE DeWALD

Academic Feasterville

George has been one of our very likeable classmates since ninth grade. He likes sports and music, but dislikes such things as homework and exams. He was a member of the Science Club, and has a special interest in collecting pictures. George is an ever willing worker and can usually be counted on to add a cheerful word here and there. Although he is still undecided about his plans for the future, we know he will be successful.

RONALD STEPHEN DIAMOND

Academic — Philmont

Ron is one of our more quiet members, but he is certainly not inactive. He came to L. M. from Lincoln High in 1952, and since then has proved himself a worthy classmate. Ron is very fond of sports and served as sports writer for the Lion's Roar in his senior year. We feel that the college Ron chooses will benefit by this sports-loving, genial young man.

GERALDINE R. DIETZ

Academic — Huntingdon Valley

Adjectives such as friendly, efficient, willing, and dependable, only begin to describe our Jerry. She was hockey manager, an active member of the band and orchestra, and received the responsibility of editor of the yearbook. She enjoys sports, sewing, and sociability with her many friends. Jerry's consistently high scholastic achievement will serve her well as she continues her education at Penn State.

REINER DRESCHER

Academic — Rockledge

Dresch was voted our quietest boy, and in that respect he had little competition from our other more "expressive" male members. Perhaps, Dresch's virtue of being rather quiet accounted for his success in things scholastic, even though he insists that he is allergic to work of any kind – and poetry. Of course, sports and cars aren't work, so they rate high with Dresch. We wish this friendly classmate success in his future work, accounting.

MAHLON ELWELL

General — Somerton

Mahlon could well be called our "emergency man", for he was always ready to do what he could for his class. One of his contributions to school life was his participation in basketball, particularly in his senior year when he was a reliable and regular varsity man. Hunting and Fishing Club was Mahlon's selection from our club list. We wish this friendly classmate the best for the future.

KAY CHARLENE FAWCETT

General Huntingdon Valley

Quiet, friendly Kay has been a friend-in-need many a time, and we'll not forget. Kay joined us from Lincoln in her sophomore year. It wasn't long before we discovered her interest in cooking and sewing (but not in things scientific). Her kind and helpful ways will be put to good use after school, as she is interested in social service work. Good luck and success, Kay.

JANE ELEANOR FLACK

Commercial Bethayres

Jane is one of the athletic-minded girls of our class. She belonged to the Athletic Council and was a varsity hockey player for four years. Her outside interests of the domestic variety are sewing and cooking. Since first grade Jane has been a Lower Morelandite, which may account for her loyalty to her school in spite of "all that homework". Jane now looks ahead to a place in the business world – for awhile.

LESLIE FRADKIN

Academic Feasterville

His love of sports shows in his participation in varsity basketball and baseball, but Les is probably best known for his three years of varsity football. Les has also become known for his quick wit and his timely (?) questions in class. He was a member of the Dramatic Club and, in his senior year, became co-editor of the Lion's Roar. We wish Les success in his college work.

SHERLEE ANN GARRETT

Commercial Feasterville

Sherl joined us from Delhaas High School in her sophomore year, and since then has proved herself a worthy and well-liked member of our class. She likes cheeseburgers, swimming and sewing, but dislikes homework – and who doesn't? She was also voted Best Dancer in her senior year. Sherl expects to attend business college and then become a secretary. We wish her success and happiness.

MARION AUDREY GOSS

Academic Bustleton

We could always count on Marion for lots of fun and she never let us down. She is a true Lower Morelandite, having started here in first grade. She chose the Spanish, Typing, Speech and Dramatics, and Home Nursing Clubs throughout high school. Her likes include languages and music, while math and gym "disagree" with her. We know Marion's sense of humor and enjoyment of life will serve her well in her chosen career.

SHIRLEY ANN GRAHAM

Academic Langborne

"Shirl" was a very peppy and popular member of our class. She was a member of Chorus, Pep Club, the Elmleo staff, and Student Council. We will always remember Shirley as captain of the cheer leaders, urging our teams to victory. Besides all this, Shirl still found time for a busy social schedule and helping her many friends.

ROBERT GRAY

Academic Feasterville

Bob rarely was seen without two of his many valuable assets – a cheerful grin and a merry twinkle. Jokes and good times of all varieties kept him in high good humor. Not even work, or the thought of it, darkened Bob's sunny sky. He enjoyed membership in the Hunting and Fishing and Home Economics Clubs and joined the committees for many a social event. We hope Bob will keep his good disposition all through the years.

EDNA M. HARDING

Commercial Trevose

Little Edna is a small but perky member of the graduating class. She likes skating, dancing, and dating a special fellow. Her dislikes are homework and people who joke too much. After graduation, she says she wants to get married and raise a happy family. We say that Edna's just the one to head a happy group.

PAMELA DI ANN HAWLEY

Academic Huntingdon Valley

Pam joined us in her senior year from Kenmore Senior High School in New York and immediately participated in many of our class activities. At Kenmore she was a member of the basketball and swimming teams for two years, being basketball captain in her sophomore year. She enjoys sports, dramatics and dancing, while her dislikes range from cats to back seat drivers. We know Pam will be a success wherever she goes.

JAMES HESSON

General Feasterville

Jack was voted by his classmates the class flirt. Is it any wonder that his special interest should be girls? Besides girls, Jack also likes cars. After graduation, Jack expects to become a serviceman. Be on the look-out for a handsome man in uniform.

ELSIE GEORGIANA HILDRETH

Commercial Feasterville

Elsie is one of our little blondes, attractive and efficient. She was a member of the business staff of the Elmleo, belonged to the Tri-Hi-Y and Chorus, and was a manager of our basketball team. Swimming, reading, and sports are at the top of Elsie's "leisure list". After working for a reasonable time, Elsie favors homemaking as a career.

HENRY HUBBARD

Academic Feasterville

Whenever we had any art work to do or decorations to make for a dance, we immediately thought of Buddy, one of our class artists. Bud came to L.M. from the John Paul Jones School and immediately proved his worth as a willing worker, whose pet peeve is being called "Henry". Buddy's plans for after graduation include art school, and eventually car designing.

SUSAN ADELE HYNES

Academic Huntingdon Valley

Susie's pleasant manner and quiet, efficient ways made her a valuable asset to the class. She was a very active worker in all class activities and a member of the Lion's Roar Staff and Typing Club. Her special likes are writing letters and French, although she finds boats very fascinating, too. Sue's future, her undecided future, should be a happy one.

MYRTLE E. JACOBS

Commercial Oakford

All of us have enjoyed Myrt's fun loving nature and her happy manner. She contributed her talent to the Chorus, Knitting and Shop Clubs, plus many of our class activities. She was our honored May Queen this year. Taking care of her cocker spaniel, Skeeter, is her favorite pastime, but for evening entertainment Myrt chooses dancing. Before she begins a career of home making, Myrt hopes to get a few years of business experience.

WILLIAM E. JOHNSTON

Academic Huntingdon Valley

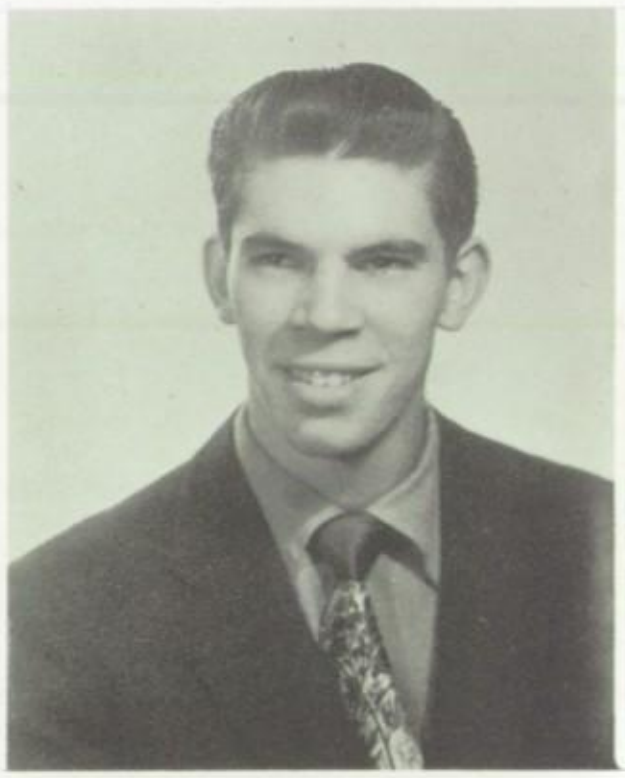
After coming from Gulf High School, Florida, in his sophomore year, Bill readily and capably assumed many responsibilities. He was elected treasurer of Student Council and of his class in his junior year. In his senior year he was honored by being elected class president. In sports, Bill found football to be his game and was a varsity man for three years. We'll remember Bill's grin, his friendly way – and his M. G. Good luck in college, Bill!



GEORGE W. KANE

Academic Feasterville

Ever since he came to L. M. from Northeast, George has been one of our friendliest and most popular classmates. He played varsity football for two years and was a member of the Gym and Model Building Clubs. Flying (he has his pilot's license), building model planes, and skating are of special interest to George. College is his goal. We wish him continued success there.

EDWARD KAUFMAN

General Trevose

Ed's main interest seems to be in the field of sports and there he excelled, in football for two years and also in baseball. We know that Ed has ability in other fields. This we have learned chiefly from class discussions since Ed was not one to join many clubs. For Ed, too, plans for the future are not yet definite but we want him to know we wish him good luck.

CHARLES KAUFMANN

General Feasterville

Bucky came to Lower Moreland in his junior year from Northeast Catholic High. In his short time with us, Bucky has shown ability and interest in basketball, golf, and swimming. We take the words of his friends for the golf and swimming since those sports are not on L. M.'s schedule. Also in this short time, Bucky has made many friends, and we, his classmates, wish the best for him.

EUGENE KEMMERLING

Academic Feasterville

Gene joined us in our freshman year from Wilson Junior High School and since then has proved to be a good friend and a willing worker. He has been a member of the Band, Chorus, and Elmleo staff, and was elected to the Student Council in his senior year. He enjoys camping trips, wild life, and is well known in school for his photography work. Gene plans to attend college to study Forestry. Best of luck to a swell classmate.

BERNICE KLOSTER

Academic Feasterville

Petite and quiet would best describe Bernice. After joining us in our sophomore year it became apparent that she had many interests – chiefly cooking, sewing, and needlepoint. She became active in Home Economics, Art, and Typing Clubs. Her small stature has nothing to do with the size of her ambition, for in keeping with her helpful nature, she wants to become a nurse. Lucky patients!

EDWARD LAYTON

General Rockledge

Buddy's interests have been divided between sports and cars. In sports, Buddy played class J.V., one year of varsity basketball, and pitched two years of varsity baseball. For these reasons, he was a member of Athletic Council. In addition to driving cars, Buddy likes to work on them, so he is seriously considering motor mechanics as his next step.

JANET CLAIR LELDAHL

Academic Feasterville

Janet was voted the best looking girl in the senior class and was also May Queen attendant for two years. Janet knows, however, that beauty is only skin deep and she is the type of person everyone likes for many other reasons. She enjoys dancing and good times in general, but her special hobby is sewing. She is not quite certain of her plans for the future, but she thinks it will be in the field of home economics. Our good wishes go with this good friend and talented classmate.

BARBARA ANNE LINDNER

Academic Feasterville

Bobbi is a gifted young lady who puts to good use the high intelligence we have come to recognize – and envy. We also admire her individuality and and special style. Although Bobbi loves social life, she also enjoys writing, studying, and fishing. We are glad Bobbi transferred to L. M. from Olney High and we have an idea we will be following her career with interest.

WILLIAM C. LISS

Academic Rockledge

Bill was outstanding in sports and in art, his two specialties. He was a varsity team member for two years in both basketball and football, being co-captain of the latter in his senior year. Both in art classes and in year-book work, Bill showed artistic ability. Club choices included Dramatic, Boxing, and Gym Clubs. His choice for the future has not been settled, but we know Bill will make a wise one.

RUTH VIRGINIA LITTLEFIELD

Academic Rockledge

Rudy is a good worker and a swell person to know. She was chairman of the literary staff of the Elmleo and also belonged to the Lion's Roar. Rudy has a variety of interests and talents. She is an exceptional seamstress, is the only girl in the class to own her own car, and she now hopes to be an airline stewardess. We can see only the best in Rudy's future.

LOUISE LOVETT

Academic Feasterville

Lulu is known to all as one of our smaller but peppier members. She was chairman of Elmleo Art Staff and editor of the Lion's Roar. Other special interests include tasty food, painting, and winter sports. Lulu anticipates a college career and we know she will succeed in that and in the years that follow. Her cheerful philosophy will carry her far.

JOHN MAPLE

General Feasterville

Cars are the first interest of Long John although girls run a close second. Everyone knows Jack for his amusing antics which have kept us in good spirits since he came to us from Lincoln High in his junior year. Driving a tractor-trailer seems to be Jack's main ambition for the future. Jack can handle that in fine style, we know.

WYNONA MAY McCULLOUGH

Academic Feasterville

Winnie came to L. M. from Cleveland, Ohio, in her junior year. Since then she has been active on the Lion's Roar Staff, in the Typing Club, and Chorus. Roller skating, bowling, and square dancing keep Winnie active and cheerful, but we are warned not to mention such things as Health, liver, or the bleaching process. Winnie's current plans include a major in Hotel Administration at Penn State.

JEAN ESTHER MURRAY

Academic Bethayres

Jeanne was voted the most athletic girl in the senior class and that for good reasons. She played on the varsity squad for three years in both basketball and hockey, and was elected hockey captain this year. Although sports hold first place with Jeanne, she is active in many other activities. These include Chorus dancing drawing, and collecting figurines. Jeanne will be a capable, efficient worker in whatever work she chooses.

WALTER P. PALMER, JR.

Academic Huntingdon Valley

Walt puts sports at the head of his preferences and proves why. He played varsity football and baseball for three years, basketball, and became football co-captain in his senior year. Also he was vice-president of Student Council in his junior year, vice-president of his senior class, and joined Science Club and Lion's Roar. Walt looks forward to college and then practicing the art of salesmanship. In this or in any vocation, Walt will succeed.

CAROLE A. PUGH

Commercial Bethayres

Carole is a good friend to all and a conscientious worker. Also she is a very capable athlete, having played varsity basketball for three years and, at Dobbins, varsity baseball and softball for two years. Shortly after she came to us in her junior year from Dobbins Vocational, we discovered her interest and talent in art. That made her a valuable member of the Arts and Crafts Club and a great asset to all of our decorating committees. Carole looks forward to making art her profession.

JANET MAE RAUDENBUSH

Commercial Feasterville

Raudy enjoyed a variety of things in her high school days. First of all she played basketball, and for clubs she chose the Shop and Typing Clubs. Homework is Raudy's pet peeve, a rather common and understandable one. We'll remember Janet's "Ah, Boy!" for a number of years. After graduation Janet plans to be a secretary. An efficient one she'll be.

ROBERT C. REINBOTH

General Rockledge

You might think that Bob is extremely quiet, but just mention horses or cars and you'll know you have misjudged him. Bob is kept busy either riding or caring for his two fine horses. He'll be glad to give you the latest news of cars, too. His friendly smile won him the honor of having the nicest smile in our class. The future? Undecided, but undoubtedly interesting.

BARBARA ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Academic Feasterville

One of our most talkative, but nicest girls is Barb. A ready and willing classmate, Barb contributed to the work of Lion's Roar and Elmleo. Dancing and swimming are two of her favorite pastimes; homework and oral talks are not. With college ahead, Barb will find a happy mixture of all these as she gets "into the swing" at college.

JOAN ANN ROBINSON

Academic Feasterville

Cute and whimsical Joanie joined us late in our sophomore year from Roxborough High School, but she got into the swing of things soon by sharing the work of Lion's Roar and the Elmleo staffs. She quickly made it known to us that she likes skating and hillbilly music, but not work. However, her talent and success in many fields belie that statement about hard labor.

DONALD SCHICK

Academic Huntingdon Valley

Don's good looks and pleasing personality made him popular as soon as he entered from Frankford in his junior year. He became a valuable member of our basketball, baseball, and football teams. It's understandable that sports head his list of likes. Don is rather reserved and hasn't disclosed his plans for the future. However, we guarantee their success.

DAVID SCHMIEL

Academic Rockledge

Dave, one of our most enthusiastic baseball fans, lives, eats, and sleeps that popular American sport. Swimming is next best, Dave thinks, but, of course, it offers baseball no competition. In school life, Dave brightens visibly in chemistry class but wilts, also visibly, in math. Dave is rather reserved and reluctant to forecast much about his future, but we hope it is a happy one.

MARIE LOUISE SHOEMAKER

Commercial Huntingdon Valley

Rie, as we all know, is a very jovial and gay companion. We will remember with pleasure her friendly manner. Rie, a member of the Typing and Shop Clubs, says that clothes and blue eyes brighten her life. After graduation Rie plans to attend a business school and then become active in the business world.

CARL EUGENE SIMON

General Rockledge

Our musical "Mousey" joined us in our sophomore year and soon became one of our best-liked and most popular classmates. His club choice was the Athletic Club; his other interests have been sports and girls; his hobbies include piano playing and model trains. The future looks bright for Carl.

LILLIAN VIRGINIA SIMONS

College Preparatory Feasterville

Lillian is a quiet, dependable member of our class, well-liked by everyone. She enjoys boating, dancing, gardening, and parties, but dislikes school work. In school, she chose the Shop and Knitting Clubs. Because we know Lillian will continue to work conscientiously, we feel sure that she will succeed in college and increase her circle of loyal friends.

ELSIE MAE SPERLING

General Feasterville

"El" was a real asset to our class. We'll always be grateful to her for her helpfulness in everything that our class had to do. Elsie played basketball, was a member of the Shop Club, and took an active interest in art. Elsie says her pet peeve is a person who lacks school spirit. A loyal classmate like "El" has no such lack. Our good wishes go to her as she steps out into the business world.

GEORGIANNA STEINOUR

Commercial Bethayres

Georgier has been a loyal L. M. pupil since first grade and has certainly done countless jobs for her school and class. She has also participated in a variety of activities – orchestra, twirling in the band, Elmleo staff work, and publicity writing. Her interest in Scout work has really carried over into all of her many interests, and we think of Georgier as one of our "good scouts". We wish her success and happiness.

W. ANTHONY STEWART

Academic Rushland

Tony joined us in his freshman year from Glenside-Weldon School and has been an active and popular class member ever since. He was active in sports, playing varsity football in his senior year, served on the Elmleo staff, and was Student Council President in his senior year. These are only some of the reasons we are sure Tony will make good in his engineering profession and in society in general.

Academic Huntingdon Valley

"Stock" will long be remembered for his friendliness and his cheerful ways. His various activities included Science and Boxing Clubs and the Elmleo photography department. Other interests of Bill's are coin collecting, dancing, and science. Bill plans to attend college where we are sure he will continue the fine record he made throughout high school.

MARJORIE ANNE URBAN

Commercial Rockledge

A friendly smile and a contagious giggle – that's our Marge. We'll always remember her gay manner. Marge was a member of the Chorus for three years. Another special interest was watching L. M.'s football games. She also favors dancing and driving, but not walking or wearing a hat. After graduation Marge hopes to do secretarial work.

BEVERLY ANN VEZINA

Commercial Langborne

Bev is a very busy little member of our class. She was on Elmleo staff, president of Tri-Hi-Y Club, and belonged to Chorus for three years. Also, she was manager of the girls' basketball team for two years. Bev's special interest is sewing, in which art she is "tops". At the proper time and place, Bev finds knitting, skating, driving, and eating spaghetti diverting and satisfying. Business college is Bev's next step and that will be another successful one.

ROBERT E. WARNER

Commercial Trevose

Bob was an example of what the well dressed young man should wear, but that didn't keep him from joining in the fun (remember his laugh!) and being active in the Chorus, Typing and Spanish Clubs. He was a loyal rooter for L. M. and didn't care for those who weren't. After graduation, Bob must decide between a business college or office work.

AUDREY DAWN WEDEGIS

Commercial Trevose

School life was definitely brighter for those friends in Audie's circle, particularly in shorthand class. Naturally since she loves a good laugh, Audie would put on her "pet peeve" list those who do enjoy themselves in too loud a way or those who don't enjoy themselves at all. Dancing, Elmleo Staff, and Typing Club were Audie's favorites. Plans for the immediate future for Audie, as for many of our classmates, are not yet definite.

EDWARD OSCAR WEISSER

Academic Langborne

Big Ed is one of the only pair of twins in our class. He played one year of varsity football and selected Science Club and Chorus. Music, chemistry, and tinkering with automobiles keep him busy in the little leisure time he has. After Ed graduates he wants to join the Navy and hopes to be stationed in Alaska. Wherever Ed goes, our good wishes go with him.

WILLIAM W. WEISSER

General Langborne

As we all know so well, Bill is very talented musically. He is a cooperative member of our class, always willing to lend a helping hand. Bill's hobbies include woodworking and, of course, music. Roller skating is one of Bill's many likes. He doesn't have too many dislikes, but a definite one is homework. Although Bill is uncertain about what he would like to do after graduation, we are certain he will be a success.

Hockey

The 1953 hockey girls gave all of us an interesting successful season by getting within one point of the league championship. A hard fought scoreless tie brought the season to an exciting close, and gave the coveted championship to Hatfield. All the girls, as well as the coaches, kept the will to win and good sportsmanship "out front" throughout the season and, therefore, made L. M. proud of them.

The coveted goals were scored by Jane Flack (3), Marlene Gengenbach (2), Lois Fink (2), and Captain Jeanne Murray (1).

The football team of 1953 made us proud of them at every turn of the way – as they "held that line", made those thrilling touchdowns, and got in the clear for some long runs.

Our successful record for this season is due chiefly to the loyal cheering section, the hard playing and fighting spirit of the squad members, and the coaching of Mr. McHugh and Mr. Wilkinson.

We congratulate the team and hope the teams of the future will continue the fine playing we have seen this year.

Congratulations to the successful basketball team of '54! Although we didn't come out in first place, we had a hard-fighting team who played many thrilling games for the spectators. An illustration of this was the Jenkintown game, played on our floor, in which the fellows gave the opposing team a fight to the finish. Our high scorer, Dave McCool, scored 302 points followed closely by Don Schick's 240 and Les Fradkin's 214 points. Throughout the season, the fellows were encouraged by their able coach, Mr. Martz, and the efficiency of their managers.

The ball players pictured above represent the varsity squad of 1954 in so far as we could judge by the pre-season prospects. Our yearbook picture, as usual, had to be taken before the season was in full swing. For that same reason we can offer no score summary, but we can guarantee that the ball team enjoyed a successful season and did credit to Lower Moreland. We will be sure to give the baseball squad members the favorable publicity they will no doubt earn as the spring schedule goes into action.

Class Will

We, the All-Wise Seniors, about to leave our beloved high school, being usually sound in mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following to our faculty, and to the young and inexperienced, but promising, underclassmen. In making our departure, may we express the fervent hope that the on-coming seniors will conduct themselves in such a manner as to be the same sweet comfort to the faculty as we have been.

First: We order and direct that our executives hereinafter named forget our mistakes and shortcomings as soon as possible. To the faculty as a whole we bequeath our gratitude for having tolerated us during our four years of study.

Walt Ames leaves his way with Mrs. Thornburg to Marlene Gengenbach.

Bill Anglemoyer leaves a gag to Pat Herbert (that's the only thing that will keep her quiet in school).

Peg Bailey leaves her dancing ability to Miss Wagner. (Why? Miss Wagner doesn't need more ability.)

Barry Barth leaves "My musty jokes to Charlie Holt."

Virginia Bell leaves her favorite saying "Hi" to Kathy Hynes.

Don Billger leaves his height to Walt Buzby.

Barbara Blair leaves her giggles to Barbara Harris.

Dot Blaker leaves her naturally curly hair to Pat Robinson.

Ronnie Bothur leaves his loud voice to Miss Wagner.

Ruth Burrows leaves her bottle of red-hair dye to Nancy Close.

Bruce Chadwick leaves his teasing ability to Harry Howard.

George DeWald leaves his baseball card collection to Arthur Yerkes.

Ron Diamond leaves his brains to Mr. Slaybaugh's chemists.

Jerry Dietz leaves her low test grades to Barbara Hertrick.

Reiner Drescher leaves his accent to Miss Crowe.

Mahlon Elwell leaves his broken glasses to Mr. Bru.

Kay Fawcett leaves her quietness to Sally Braun.

Jane Flack leaves, to make room for the rest of the family.

Les Fradkin and Bill Liss leave their love for teachers to Tom Allmon and Tom Spolar.

Sherlee Garrett leaves her size 5 shoe to Tom Allmon.

Marion Goss leaves Chemistry and French II to Nancy Leszak.

Bob Gray leaves his place as class clown to Wayne Clements.

Edna Harding leaves her good times at L.M. to everyone.

Pam Hawley leaves her varsity tunic No. 13 to anyone who can wear it.

Jack Hesson leaves his flirting ability to Bobby McCook.

Elsie Hildreth leaves the time clock to Miss Allshouse.

Buddy Hubbard leaves his thick curls to Mr. Brightbill.

Susan Hynes leaves her French poodle, Pierre, to next year's French II class.

Myrt Jacobs leaves her ability to have fun to Sonnie Hofmann.

Bill Johnston leaves his big blue eyes to Lorraine McDowell.

George Kane leaves his Lilt permanent to Archie Gover.

Bucky Kaufmann leaves his ability to tease girls to all the fellows.

Ed Kaufman leaves his invisible belt to anyone who wants it.

Bernice Kloster leaves her quiet ways to Nancy Close.

Buddy Layton leaves his crew cut to Ronnie Stranix.

Bobbie Lindner leaves Bill Stocker for any future senior who would like to dance with him.

Ruth Littlefield and Joan Robinson leave the notewriting to anyone who can get away with it.

Louise Lovett leaves her natural blonde hair to Sylvia Bass and Marge Meinel.

Jack Maple leaves his height to Walter Sperling.

Wynne McCullough leaves her flirting ways to Gert Layer.

Jeanne Murray leaves the hockey championship to the 1954 hockey squad.

Walter Palmer, Jr. leaves a bottle of "Geritol" to that valiant warrior in Room 5, Mr. Morro.

Carole Pugh leaves the basketball championship to the team of '55.

Janet Raudenbush leaves her old stenography book to Nancy Kerst.

Bob Reinboth leaves his engineer boots and cleats to Mr. Robinson.

Barbara Rittenhouse leaves a stack of inches to Nancy Clayton.

Don Schick leaves his varsity uniforms to Trickett.

Marie Shoemaker leaves Ralph to another year of school.

Dave Schmiel leaves his grandmother to Mr. Brightbill.

Carl Simon leaves his sauerkraut to Fritz.

Lillian Simons leaves her day-dreaming to Vera Dreeman.

Elsie Sperling leaves her naturally straight hair to Barbara Wisner.

Georgianna Steinour leaves all her Elmleo business work to 1955's staff.

Tony Stewart leaves his headaches and aspirin supply to next year's Student Council president.

Bill Stocker leaves his comb to Dave Nyce.

Margie Urban leaves her P.O.D. classes to Ron Stranix.

Beverly Vezina leaves the position of basketball manager to June Cooper.

Bobby Warner leaves his laughs and swell times in the C section to James Dougherty.

Audrey Wedegis leaves all her troubles to Anna Marie Roth.

Ed Weisser leaves his bell to anyone who owns a Plymouth.

Bill Weisser leaves his musical talent to Ronnie Goss.

Class Prophecy

In the summer of 1964 the three of us, Barry Barth, prominent night-club owner, Bill Johnston, foreign car dealer, and I, Walt Palmer, business tycoon and financial magnet, decided to take a trip around the world to see some of our old classmates.

As we walked into LaGuardia Airport, we were surprised to see our old classmate, Marie Shoemaker, selling popcorn to the tourists. As we stopped to talk to Marie, an announcement came over the address system, paging "Mrs. Wynona Ikinstick." Recognizing the announcer's voice, we rushed to the information booth and were greeted by George DeWald, the announcer. George is now married and the father of six children – all girls. To our surprise, and delight, Mrs. Wynona Ikinstick turned out to be the former Wynona McCullough. Winnie was paged to receive a phone call from her husband, saying she should come home – that all was forgiven.

Hurriedly saying good-bye we dashed through the gate, out to the airplane, and found the airline stewardess to be Ruth Littlefield. As we talked about old times, she told us that Bobby Warner would be the pilot on part of the trip, and that Janet Raudenbush was co-pilot. Finally convincing Barry that he should go on the trip anyway, we proceeded to board the plane.

The take-off was rather bumpy, but the plane finally settled down to a smooth level. Soon lunch was served, and as Ruth was serving hot soup, the airplane hit an airpocket, sending the soup, and Ruth, onto a passenger's lap. As the passenger jumped up, we recognized him to be Bobby Benton – ex-classmate, and now owner of a million-dollar machine shop. Suddenly, from the rear of the plane came a familiar voice yelling, "Let me through. I'm a nurse!" Recognizing Marion Goss, Bill Johnston jumped and explained that a nurse wasn't needed.

After the excitement was calmed down, we settled back to finish a peaceful meal. Later, Ruth came back and pointed out that the grounds we were then passing over were those of the fabulous Hoke Hotel built by the prominent contractors, Elwell and Vogel.

We had an hour stop-over in Texas, so we decided to take a ride around. Driving along an old rutty road, we saw Tex Reinboth herding cattle on Shirley Graham's ranch. He told us he lost a bet – that Shirley DOES have the more bowed legs.

Returning to the airport, we recognized Walt Ames hitch-hiking. We stopped to pick him up, and he told us that he was parked in a real romantic setting with a beautiful girl, when she pushed him out and drove away with his car.

We dropped Walt off and drove back to the airport. This time we changed pilots (Bobby hadn't gotten his shots yet.) Our new pilot turned out to be Elsie Sperling.

We took off for Hawaii where we were greeted by a line of swaying hula-girls which included Audrey Wedegis and Barb Lindner. Bill Anglemoyer was the dancing instructor for the girls – a job which he relished.

Down the beach, we found Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Layton (Mrs. Layton, the former Jeanne Murray) doing a booming business making grass skirts for Bill's hula-dancers. (Seems they shook too hard and always lost them.)

Up in the air again, we headed out, over the Pacific once more. As we neared Japan, Ruth pointed out a small Japanese dinghy, drifting near the shore. Of course, it was Bobby Gray at his favorite – and only – past time.

We stopped to refuel in Japan. Since the airport was near the waterfront, we thought it would be interesting to walk along it. As we approached an old cattleboat, a small redhaired sailor was trying to stow-away on it. Since there are no red-headed Japanese, we knew it had to be Don Billger (the Navy had forgotten him.)

Aboard the plane once again, we noticed a Chinese man who looked familiar. At second glance, we saw him to be Les Fradkin (he's an under-cover agent investigating the Chinese. He just won't believe that there are 450 million Chinese in the world.)

Flying over Tibet, we saw flares and landed to investigate. Babs Blair, a foreign missionary, was having a tough time. The Tibetans were trying to convert her.

Engine trouble forced us to land in India where we found Dave Schmiel and his harem of 40 dancing girls. Outside his palace grounds, we found Don Schick, a camel driver for Dave.

The plane was fixed, and we were soon on our way again. Flying over darkest Africa, we again had engine trouble and had to make a crash-landing. A few of the passengers were hurt, but tending the sick was Bernice Kloster, who popped out of the jungle to help. Soon after the crash came Ron Diamond, a reporter on the Jungle Bungle Daily, covering the accident. We learned that Georgianna Steinour was the editor.

All of a sudden, out of the bushes, came hundreds of head-hunters. They herded us through the thick muck and into a clearing toward a big pot of stew in which sat LuLu Lovett, bound and gagged. We were pushed into a small hut decorated with heads collected through the years. We recognized Bucky Kaufmann and Jack Hesson among them. Then we were dragged outside in front of the Medicine Man who, after a long and mumbled consultation, decided to free us. (We found out later that the Medicine Man was Ed Kaufman.

We quickly climbed aboard the plane, and headed for Russia, where we found George Kane trying to promote Lilt Home Permanents to straight-haired Russians.

Barry wanted to see a Russian nightclub, and being curious also, Bill and I decided to comply with his wishes and go with him. Peggy Bailey was the hat-check girl as we walked in during the sensational act of the Weisserski Brothers. Marge Urban was the cigarette girl who did a Russian jig with every pack she sold. Bill Stocker was the mad bartender mixing his own crazy concoctions. Bev Vezina made the costumes for the chorus line which included old friends such as Dot Blaker, Ginny Bell, Jane Flack, and Pam Hawley. Reiner Drescher was the master of ceremonies.

The next day we took off for Italy where we found Bill Liss in the process of being thrown out of a beautiful signora's room, his waves in wild disarray.

In France we found Barb Rittenhouse in Pugh's Exclusive Salon modeling foundation garments in which Carole is a fashion leader.

Outside Carole's salon, Carl Simon was connecting Carole's phone again. (She forgot to pay the bill for the past 8 months). Carl is still only a lineman.

Leaving France we flew down to Spain. We arrived in time to see a bullfight. Jack Maple was the toreador (he's STILL throwing the bull!!!)

We, also, found Jerry Dietz penniless and homesick. She had flunked out of college and didn't have the money to go home. (Barry bought her water wings and wished her good-luck on her trip home.)

We left Spain for England and found Bud Hubbard doing a gigantic business designing American cars. Sue Hynes was his advertising agent.

Crossing the Irish Sea, we found Joan Robinson in Ireland trying to sell green spaghetti to Irish Italians.

Quickly leaving there, we flew down to Argentina where we learned from Ruth Burrows, red-hair dye manufacturer, that Kay Fawcett, Sherlee Garrett, and Elsie Hildreth had gone to the South Pole, and the Eskimos liked them so much, they decided to keep them there.

Flying up South America, we flew low over the Amazon River, and saw the former Myrt Jacobs raising little Joneses. We stopped in Panama and saw Janet Leldahl and Lillian Simons messing up the locks at the Panama Canal. Repairmen were called and they turned out to be Ronnie Bothur and Bruce Chadwick. They fouled things up, too, so Gene Kemmerling, mastermind and expert at picking and fixing (but good!) locks, was called. We left before anything else happened!

We landed in Mexico for a last stop before we got home and saw Edna Harding trying to sneak into a Mexican theater at a child's price. Down the street was Tony Stewart selling hot tamales in a pushcart.

In the plane again, we thought over the things that had happened, and the old friends we had seen. Not many had stayed in this country. Of course, many were just visiting in that country when we saw them, but some had decided to live there.

Leaving the plane we said good-bye, and parted, – each wondering what we'd see on our next trip ten years from now – 1974.
